DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statements (IDS) submitted on 09/22/2003 and 12/22/2003 have been considered by the examiner. The submission is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97.

Specification

The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

The following title is suggested: Electronic still camera comprising auto focusing and flashing means in synchronism with a sampling time of the auto focus.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422

Art Unit: 2622

F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1 - 12 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 - 12 of U.S. Patent No. 6,700,614 because claims 1 - 12 in the current application are drawn to features that encompass a broader scope than corresponding patent claims 1 - 12, and, therefore, are merely an obvious variation of the same.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1 - 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. As understood by the examiner, application 10/668,904 is aimed at auto focusing without the need for the light from the flash to stay substantially constant whereas the parent application from which this application depends, i.e. application 09/404,546 now patent 6,700,614, it is an essential concept of the invention to keep the light from the flash to stay substantially constant as described throughout the specification of the parent application 09/404,546. For example in column 1, lines 54 - column 2, line 14 applicant discloses it is disadvantageous to have a varying amount of light from the flash and in column 8 lines 5 et seq., in column 10 lines 36 et seq., and throughout the application is described that the use of a constant light from a flash is advantageous for auto focusing and sampling time of the focus and is an essential concept of the invention. The broadening of the claims lacks support in the original disclosure as described in MPEP 2163.05. Appropriate action is required.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Isoguchi et al. (US patent No. 4,881,127) teaches a time value signal which can be used to control various components of the camera such as flashing of the light and focusing light.

Kuno et al. (US Patent No. 4,771,307) teaches a camera that does calculation of the distance a flash reaches so the auto focusing can be adjusted accordingly.

Takahata et al. (US Patent No. 6,108,495) teaches a camera that does calculation of the distance a flash reaches so the auto focusing can be adjusted accordingly.

Mizoguchi (US Patent No. 6,342,922) teaches a camera that does calculation of the distance of an object so the auto focusing can be adjusted accordingly.
